

COUNCIL TO ACT AT ONCE ON CASE

Aldermen Will Be Asked to Appeal Commission Ruling to Sangamon County Court

AL SCHILLER IN STATEMENT

The decision of the Illinois public utilities commission, granting the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago railroad permission to increase the city line fare in Aurora and Elgin to eight cents is of Sangamon county, City Attorney John N. Kames said today. He announced that he will recommend to the aldermen at the regular meeting of the council next Monday night that the city continue the fight against the higher fare.

Those who buy $1 worth of tickets will get them for 53-3 cents each. If 50 cents worth of tickets is bought

The traction company suggested 13 tickets for $1 but the commission decided that two more should be sold for the dollar.

Not Yet Effective.

It still costs six cents for a ride on

The new rate has not been put into effect. General Manager Faber of the railroad company, said today that the copy of the commission's decision has not been received. Until the company gets official notice from the commission no change will be made, he said.

"I believe that we can still prevent the company from increasing the rates," City Attorney Kames said, "by opposing the petition before the com-rons of the street car company several thousand dollars as the eight cent rate would probably have been put into effect some weeks ago had it not been for the fight started by the city."

For Aldermen to Decide.

The mayor said today that the matter would be left to the city council.

Alschuler's decision is one for the council to decide. The aldermen will take some action next Monday night, he said.

"I note a statement in Wednesday's Beacon-News to the effect that the fares in Chicago were reduced on appeal to the circuit court of Sangamon county. This was not a statement of the actual fact. While an appeal was

...a purely legal proposition, the case now being on its way to the supreme court, the decision did not affect the fares in Chicago and the recent reduction in fares was made by the utilities commission itself, not by court, and the fact that the previous fare was fixed by it was too high. If, in the space of time, the company should be fortunate enough to earn anything in excess of a fair rate of return on the shares as fixed at present, the fare would be reduced is a matter of course."

CITY HAS QUIET NEW YEAR'S EVE

Those Who Know Where to Find It Heard No Complaints.

New Year's eve in Aurora was the quietest in history, although there was a slight stir in the streets when the police for hip pocket drinking called for the liquor and some complaints were received. There were several dances and all were largely attended.

The celebration in the Hotel Aurora grill was a quiet affair. Only one or two brought their own liquor and they felt so out of place that they did not drink it in the open.

ESTHONIANS SCORE IN PEACE PARLEY

Negotiations With Bolsheviks Show Big Concessions Made Russians by Poles.

(By Associated Press, London, Jan. 1.)—The agreement signed by Esthonian and Bolshevik representatives last night, preliminary to an armistice, indicates the Esthonian have secured a notable success in the most important negotiations. The biggest surprise was that the Esthonian were not required to accept soldiers who fought under General Yudenich in his recent campaign against Petrograd until after the peace treaty between Esthonia and soviet Russia is ratified.

Bolshevik representatives admit they made great concessions as to frontiers and military guarantees. Mr. Joffe, leader of the soviet delegation, declaring "far exceeded the latitude allowed by the Moscow government and expect to be called to account when I return but have shown you are able to make peace."

Returning to Petrograd.

The military government prohibit the presence on the territory of either soviet Russia or Esthonia any soldiers who fought under General Yudenich in his recent campaign against Petrograd until after the peace treaty between Esthonia and soviet Russia is ratified.

It is provided that all troops not under control of the other government on January 1, 1919, shall be disarmed and all arms and munitions and stores excepting foodstuffs and clothing belonging to such forces shall be neutralized and immobilized until January 1, 1922.

Thirty per cent of such disarmament shall be neutralized and immobilized until January 1, 1922.

The agreement stipulates that organizations of soviet Russia under the pretense that such organizations are in the government of all or part of the territory of either party.

LOWDEN AWAITING LETTER FROM BORAH

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 2.—Gov. Frank O. Lowden today had not received the letter addressed by Senator Borah of Idaho, requesting him to state his position on the league of nations. He declined to comment on the letter or his probable reply.

It is expected in political circles here that the governor will give his reply to the statement in the Lowden platform, which was filed in Iowa, that he is in favor of the "ratification of the peace treaty with the League of Nations."

The governor's attitude on the league is one of opposition to the part of the treaty which is being promulgated by the foreign relations committee of the senate.

1920 MAY SEE HIGHER H. C. L.

This Despite Lever Law, Prosecutions, Food Administrators' and Committees.

WAGES AHEAD IN SOME TOWNS

By GEORGE B. WATERS.
K. E. A. Washington Bureau, Washington, D. C.

The American people face the new year with a higher cost of living than in the year before. This is due to the fact that the cost of living has increased 12 months ago. Despite fair-price committees, food administrators, the Lever act and prosecutions, it cost 13 per cent more to eat New Year's day than it did Jan. 1, 1919.

Food cost 12 per cent higher now than before the war. The bureau of labor statistics furnished this figure. It affects who eats it. It is based on the weighted average of essential foods that make up the daily diet of American homes. The smallest increase since 1913 was in plate beef, 44 per cent, and the largest in eggs, 115 per cent.

Other expenses up 88 per cent. But food is only one item. People wear clothes, live in houses, burn fuel, use furniture and have miscellaneous expenses. These are necessary. Considering these with food, the general cost of existing has jumped 88 per cent since before the war. This figure is based on statistics taken by the labor department in the District of Columbia.

Figures for the nation aren't available—congress cut the appropriation for such work. But statistics say these fairly pretty well with conditions elsewhere. In the shadow of the White House, the state capital and the department of justice—where A. Mitchell Palmer holds forth—annual living costs went up 8 per cent from April to November. On the day of the war, Jan. 1, 1920, they were still rising.

Some wages lag behind. Some wages haven't kept pace with living costs. But they are not so far behind. I learned that the bakers are getting 16 per cent more than in 1913. What are known as index numbers are too complicated to explain here, but this means that when the bakers get an increase of 122 per cent of their present pay, their wages will catch up with living costs. This figure is right up to now, and is the first and only one of its kind that has found its way into print. This labor department will soon publish more figures that will show the similar conditions in other trades.

There are other figures not so optimistic from the workers' standpoint. In eight trades the simple average increase in pay to about the middle of 1919 was 71 per cent. In the iron workers had been increased 121 per cent, hosiery and underwear workers 114, silk goods workers 91, men's clothing workers 71, sawmill workers 64, mah and door mill workers 51, furniture workers 44, cigar workers 15. Only two, silk goods and mah, are ahead of H. C. L. What these figures were made living costs were up about 75 per cent. Since then some of these wages have been increased, but the odds are still in favor of H. C. L.

In Chicago "a dollar an hour" was the slogan and that is the approximate scale in most trades now. There the workers are far ahead of the hounds. But Chicago can hardly be classed as representative of the country generally. In Kansas City building laborers have been increased 109 per cent. Kansas City is said to reflect conditions generally and it is true common laborers have fared better than skilled workers. When these figures were made, carpenters there were getting only 54 per cent more. In Cleveland carpenters are getting 80 per cent more on October 1. An increase of 44 per cent of their present scale there would make their wages coincide with H. C. L.

How Do You Stand? Each person may figure how Mr. Highest is affecting him. The process is to consider your 1913 wage or salary at 100 per cent. Ascertain what per cent the increase has been since then and add it to the 100 per cent. This gives your index number. If your increase has been 60 per cent, then your index number is 160. Subtract this from 185, the index number of the living cost—this particular case is 25. Now divide this by 160, the index number, result 1.56 per cent behind H. C. L. If your index number is more than 185, then subtract from it the 185 and divide the result by 185, to determine how much you are ahead of H. C. L.

Dollar Has Shunk. It is said if you melt the dollar down and take the contents to a metal buyer, he will give you $1.05 for it. But take it to the general merchandise store and you get 25 cents for it. The following table shows how the once almighty dollar has degenerated, as compared to its 1913 value:

December, 1913	100 cents
December, 1914	95 cents
December, 1915	90 cents

Underthings are becoming more fanciful and elaborate every day. The very newest fad for millinery is more intimate garments in the use of black lace. It is a minute outfit, where cambric and hose are made of black satin, and even the white stock and garter is covered with the lace. Milady's garters are camouflaged with pink satin ribbons and the cambric straps are of pink satin, but the rest of the outfit is black.

FEW WOOD ALCOHOL DEATHS NEW YEAR'S

(By Associated Press Local Wire)

Christmas, Jan. 2.—A number of deaths at Christmas and New Year's, apparently prevented widespread deaths from wood alcohol poisoning, predicted as a result of New Year's eve celebrations, although three were dead here today and several in hospitals. Celebrators of the advent of the new year in most cases confined their drinking to the old stock which they bore with them from their private cellars.

Several purchased drinks at cafes and saloons, officials said.

The most horrible murder in the world has been discovered in Ohio. He wound his cigar and put his watch in the ash tray.

FOOD SMUGGLING GROWS IN GERMANY

Illicit Trade in Edibles Due to Strictures of Rationing System Still in Vogue.

Coblenz, Dec. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Illicit trade in food, with its attendant evils of smuggling and usury, is on the increase throughout Germany, according to newspaper accounts.

The rationing system has never been abandoned even in the occupied areas of the Rhineland and some of the newspapers contend that the average individual cannot subsist on the amount of food issued. The authorities are making every effort to check the illegal traffic in foods of all kinds and the courts are crowded day after day.

Smuggling of potatoes is being carried on this winter in all parts of Germany on a scale greater than in war time. Germany produced an excellent potato crop this year, and the authorities are trying to save it from falling into the hands of the speculators.

Well-to-do people have been going to Bavaria from Prussia, Wurtemberg and Thuringia to buy potatoes, eggs and fish for which the farmers charged exorbitant prices. This worsened the hardship on the poorer people who could not compete with them.

Cheaper in Bavaria. Living appears to be cheaper in Bavaria than elsewhere in Germany. Butter has been selling there at five marks a pound, compared with 30 marks in Berlin. Eggs are quoted at 15 pfennigs each while in Berlin they cost 1.25 marks a piece. Eggs in the occupied areas have been bringing from 2 to 2.50 marks each this winter but are very scarce at any price.

Most is also reported as fairly plentiful in Bavaria, although in all other states the form of food is virtually unobtainable by housewives through regular channels excepting once or twice each month when the authorities permit a few ounces to be distributed by the card system to the individuals. Most of the hotels throughout the country are closed, and this does not violate the food regulations.

RUSSIAN PRINCE SITS AMERICA

Prince Michael Cantacuzene, whose American girl wife is a granddaughter of President Grant, is now in the U. S. in a secret mission. It is believed, however, that the trip concerns the activities of the all-Russian government, represented by the Bolsheviks, who have taken office in Russia. The prince is now helping to raise funds in New York to aid Russian civilians.

The duty of the constitutional convention, as I see it, is to construct: 1. A constitution composed of only fundamental legal principles, which gives to our successive legislatures freedom to meet those future needs that we cannot anticipate.

2. A constitution which recognizes that the representative form of government is a better government than a pure democracy and which tries to make our officers more truly representative.

A constitution which will seek a more equitable distribution of property without resorting to radical or socialist reforms.

By RODNEY H. BRANSON. A limitation of Cook county in both houses, but such a measure of home rule as will make this no injustice; unlimited suffrage for women, revenue production by a tax, in proper proportion, upon at least two classes of property, and more assurance that all property will contribute; abolition of cumulative voting, a greater facility for constitutional amendment, and an acknowledgment by the state that every child is entitled to such an education as will result in self-support and good citizenship, whether the child be rich or poor—these are, in my judgment, the chief possibilities of the constitutional convention.

British Envoy Dies. (By Associated Press Local Wire.) London, Jan. 2.—Sir Frank Cavendish, British ambassador to Germany from 1911 to 1915, died here today. He had been minister to Rumania in 1909 and to Persia in 1911 and ambassador to Russia in 1914. He was born March 23, 1841.

THE SOCIETY News of Social Activities Generally

Well Aurora is off on the 1920 leg, coming that the old adage, "No good year is true, it appears that the population will dance. At least, not only did the people dance New Year's eve but they continued yesterday afternoon and evening. With the temperature below zero, and the Western Union heating plant added to blowing out bellows, the business district residents will be entirely in the right of it in taking to dancing for circulation's sake.

A few there were who appeared to have somebody's collar key for they were seen zigzagging home but in the main bunco was the widest diversion of the city's celebration. At the Aurora hotel, it was stated by Manager Dunbar that not only was there no drinking but no one asked for a drink. There was dancing to the music of the Godard orchestra.

The largest attendance in the history of the Kells dancing studio yesterday afternoon at the New Year's party. Over 250 were present, permitting only about one half to dance, upon which the members had toiled from early morn, with Messrs. Hall, Stanley and Lundin in charge of the kitchen and Lillian Henry and a corps of workers, of the dining room. Russell Stephens gave a solo before the dinner, later, with Mrs. Harriet Darling Hall as toastmaster, Miss Hume Lundin giving a piano solo, while an address was made by Atty. Les Mighell concerning the constitutional convention, which as one member put it, "was enlightening" (it left the W. C. T. U. understanding the constitutional convention, it can go most people in Aurora one better).

Mrs. L. Smith of Chautauque gave a reading, as did Miss Ford. The Reverend Mr. Zeiler of the Christian church spoke, followed by the Rev. J. M. Schneider, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical church by the Rev. C. F. Baumann. The parents of both the bride and groom were present.

The young couple will make their home on a farm near Oswego following a wedding trip.

Liberation. Miss Martha King and James Garfield Licht, both of Aurora, were married Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of the St. John's Evangelical church by the Rev. C. F. Baumann. The parents of both the bride and groom were present.

John Brennecke's Dance. John Brennecke, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Brennecke, will entertain a dance at his home Saturday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. MacDonald. There was a supper and bridge was the amusement.

Entertainers for Sister. Mrs. John Worley entertained a few friends at luncheon today for her sister, Mrs. George Dwyer of Minneapolis. It is understood that the little daughter of Mrs. Worley, who accompanied Mrs. Dwyer and daughter Eleanor to Florida, later.

Katie Wright Married. A telegram received last night by Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Wright from their daughter, Nellie, who had been in government service in Washington, D. C., states simply that her anticipated marriage to Tom Starke, of Aurora, occurred yesterday at 4 o'clock. No details were given, but it is known that the bride and groom will come to Aurora soon. Miss Wright has been in the war risk department. Both she and her husband are West High graduates. Tom Starke served overseas with the 101st Cavalary, stationed at Lomen, and is now associated with Harshaw, Fuller, Goodman and company of Chicago. They will reside on the north side, Chicago.

Miss Hilda Harris. Miss Hilda Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Harris, of Rosewood avenue and Adolph Tallicke, were married Wednesday evening at 11:30 o'clock by the Rev. Harlan Holt. The bride has been employed in the general offices of the Burlington in Chicago. Mr. Tallicke is an engineer at the Morris Binder Board company. They will make their home at 116 South Ohio street.

Entertainers at Dinner. Mrs. J. H. Hopkins of 187 High street entertained at dinner New Year's day in honor of the eighth birthday of their daughter, Irene. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hopkins and two daughters of Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall of Oak Park, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biesmer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wooley and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Biesmer and daughter, Miss Hilda Van of Oswego and Benjamin Biesmer of Port Sheridan.

Hervon Westphal. Miss Elsie Westphal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Westphal, of Mrs. Cressing, and Myron C. Heron of Oswego, were married Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage of the St. John's Evangelical church, the Rev. C. F. Baumann officiating.

$100,000.00 Stock of Shoes

From America's Foremost Makers, Priced Less Than the Actual Cost to Build

January Sale

Our method of making new friends, and of showing our appreciation of the patronage of old customers. Sale prices that are lower, by several dollars, than such shoes can be bought for by dealers now. Some merchants would call this event business "suicide," but we believe the increased volume of sales resulting from lower prices, the increased prestige and good will we shall create, will prove worthy of our action. Our profits are cut to the lowest level while the sale lasts. The larger percentage of turn-over is expected to overcome the reduced margin of profit.

START DOUBLE PLATOON SYSTEM

Members of Central Station Have Big New Year's Spread, The Last Night Together.

BIG FEED; EVERYBODY TALKS

Members of the city department now think that life is worth living. Yesterday the double platoon system went into effect, one-half working days the other half night. This gives the members an opportunity to sleep in their own feather beds at home, also more time with their families. They can take in a movie if they like.

New Year's eve members of No. 1 and No. 6 fire companies at the Central fire station in North Broadway had their annual celebration. The event was a little more elaborate than ever before, because it was to be their last night that they would be on duty all at the same time.

The fire ladies had been looking forward to this spread since last spring when by a vote of nearly 3 to 1 the double platoon system was voted.

Wanted a breakfast. The feed was prepared by the wives, mothers and sisters of the fire-fighters. How much the feast was enjoyed is known only by those who partook of it. Bert Ochsenblyzer, for instance, just as some of the firemen were looking for a derelict to remove "Oats" from the table he was "tipped off" and left in a hurry before a rope could be fastened about his body.

Another added joy to the occasion was the fact that not a single fire alarm came in during the night. Firemen and guests sat with their fingers crossed every time the telephone rang. Just how much fire fighting could have been done, had a blaze occurred, was a matter of speculation. Everyone was so stuffed.

Among the invited guests were Richard "Dick" Kraus of the Burlington ship, one of the "rebuses" who loiters about the Central station when he has no other place to go. Bert Ochsenblyzer, Richard Bettcher, Frank Bonahat and Michael Saks, an ex-fireman; Amos Asling of the Beacon-News and James Lind of the Labor Journal.

Fireman Frank Cooper and Carl Kuntz served the supper. The only fault found with their service was that they insisted on serving the guests more after they had long been "counted out."

Everybody talks. Everybody present was called on for a talk, Chief Lehmman starting the speaking by congratulating the men on their getting the double platoon system. The chief read a paper in which he gave his plans for carrying out the system. Capt. Ed Ryan of Company No. 1 said that altho the city allowed but two additional men for the department he was confident that it would not be long before some new members are allowed.

Beginning yesterday morning only half the force was on active duty, the other half coming on in the evening to relieve the day men.

HAVE TO GUARD RELIEF KITCHENS FOR VIENNA

(By Associated Press Local Wire.) New York, Jan. 2.—Famine conditions in Vienna are so acute that children's relief kitchens have to be guarded closely to protect them from pilfering according to a copy of the newspaper Morgen just received here. Rigorous rules have been made against taking food away from the kitchens.

The newspaper says 105,000 children in Vienna are fed daily in kitchens established by the American relief administration's European children's fund.

Hat Designs By Peggy Hoyt Rejoice Hearts of Actresses and Strike Fine Fashion Note

(By Betty Brown.)

New York.—The heart of more than one actress has been made glad this season by the fortune of having a hat or two designed especially for her by Peggy Hoyt, Fifth avenue hat designer of deserved renown.

For Miss Marilyn Miller was fashioned this three-cornered troubadour hat of russet green velvet. At one side a soft ostrich feather in the same shade of green adds to the youthful effect. A companion hat for Miss Miller is a charming turban with a brim of futed satin-backed nautism velvet ribbon. The crown is of citron felt.

Two hats of individual style were designed by Peggy Hoyt for Miss Lenore Ulric. One of these shown in the illustration is fashioned of multi-colored ribbons, softly draped and deftly tied in an unusual bow at one side. It is particularly effective with a dancing costume. A skating hat of soft russet green velvet was designed for Miss Ulric. It is so made that the fringe of ostrich makes a halo for the face.

Below, in the illustration, are shown designs made by Peggy Hoyt for Miss Anita Stewart and Miss Ina Claire.

toque, heavily embroidered with electric blue chenille.

Miss Ina Claire wears a youthful hat of natural caracul. The final note of richness is attained by the jeweled pine which gives a realistic suggestion of lovely old monies.

GERMAN ENVOY ILL

(By Associated Press Local Wire.) Paris, Jan. 1.—(Havas)—Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation at Versailles, is ill with a cold and will not be able to confer with Paul Dufasta, secretary of the peace conference, for a few days. Allied delegates and other German representatives today discussed questions concerning territories where prohibition will be held.

ORNAMENTAL BAND OF GOLD, NEW NECKLACE

Large Carved Plaque in Enamel Inlaid With Stones as Decoration.

Brooches to Be Generally Oval, Oblong or Circular in Shape, Green Work.

Having just emerged from the pressure of Christmas business, out-of-the-way jewelers are already preparing for the spring trade. Necklaces, bracelets, rings and brooches will be featured in the showrooms this year. The newest thing to be exhibited in necklaces is a fine gold band, ornamented with a large carved plaque in enamel, inlaid with precious stones. Fine jeweled chains with jeweled pendants in cameo or in carved jade also prominent in the program for the new year. Head necklaces in composition or in wooden beads, which were extremely popular last year, are expected to retain their prestige for another season.

Brooches will be generally oval, oblong or circular and will be made in filigree work set with jewels of large size. These brooches will be brought out in real as well as in imitation stones. Long bar pins, measuring from four to five inches, and jeweled arrowheads, are to be worn for ornamentation as well as fastenings.

In rings, stones of great size will be shown by the more fashionable shops. Colored stones are to be used lavishly in jeweled pins and pendants. Bracelets, jeweled shelled bracelets, ivory bracelets and bracelets carved in jade or inlaid with precious stones will be emphasized in the spring styles. The bracelet watch will continue to prevail over the other styles, holding its own by virtue of its practical features.

EUROPE IS AGHAST AT U. S. PEACE DELAYS

New York, Dec. 31.—Pleasant A. Overall, United States minister to Switzerland who arrived from abroad today on the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam preparatory to retirement, said the world "was aghast at the hesitation" of the United States on the peace treaty.

"Everywhere," he said, "the question is asked: 'What is America going to do?'"

"How can our country step to split hairs when the world is tottering? Some organized power is needed, not only to prevent war, but to defend and promote the welfare of the world, to extend credit, promote commerce and regulate exchange. Events have shown that there is no such thing as isolation. We tried to keep out of this war. Impossible! The next one would just as surely involve us."

Greene Hinds Southern Pacific, New York, Dec. 31.—William H. Hume, elected president of the Southern Pacific Railroad company at a meeting of the board of directors here today to succeed John K. Hume, who was elected chairman of the board of directors.

"SAFETY FIRST" REASON FOR "WOODHEAD" AD

The real reason for the "Woodhead" ad, used by C. M. Burgess, of the Burgess-Norton Manufacturing company, in his ad for a stenographer, has been divulged. He believes in the never failing motto, "Safety First." Mr. Burgess said, "I have had no recent experience with the type of girl who might come under the title of 'Woodhead' and there is no girl in my office who is in any way inefficient. I only wanted to guard against any such applying."

SAYS RUSSIA WILL SAVE HERSELF IF LEFT ALONE

(By Associated Press Letter Writer.)

London, Jan. 2.—On the eve of his return to Copenhagen to resume the prisoner exchange negotiations with Maxim Litvinoff, the Bolshevik representative, James O'Grady, told the Mirror correspondent that he believed the four parties would be successful and that the repatriation of British prisoners and British civilians resident in Soviet Russia would be effected by the end of January.

Mr. O'Grady said his consultations would aid materially in bringing about a settlement. He expressed it as his opinion that Russia would save herself if left alone.

"She is now like a child groping in the dark but she is growing up," he declared.

Mr. O'Grady strongly opposed armed intervention in Russia, saying it would be a delusion to build hopes on Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin, both of whose armies were beaten and broken.

GETS CARD FROM PRINCE

(By Associated Press Letter Writer.)

Washington, Dec. 31.—The rumors of prices are proverbially short. On his desk today among New Year cards, Bill Nye, veteran state department expert for visiting royalty and who personally watched over the safety of the Prince of Wales during his recent visit to the United States, found this message:

"Bill Nye: 'Department of State, Washington, D. C. 'Happy New Year to you. (Signed) Edward P.'"

New York—Total motor vehicle production in the United States for 1919 reached 1,551,925, the national chamber of commerce announced.

HIGH PRICE MAKING 1920 CALENDARS SCARCE

(By Associated Press Letter Writer.)

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Advertising calendars which for many years have been sent out by business firms to customers on the eve of the new year, will be scarce in 1920. An increase of 20 per cent in the price of the decorative calendars caused thousands of Chicago business houses to discard the practice this year.

TWO YOUNG BOYS BREAK INTO STORE

Conscience Hurts Them and
They Confess—Return Stolen
Goods—Not to Be Prosecuted.

The store of A. B. Crosby, 15 Lincoln way, was broken into New Year's eve by two 12 year old boys, both of whom were arrested early yesterday morning and then released after they had returned more than $100 worth of property they had carried away from the store. They are not to be prosecuted and at the request of the parents the names are not to be made public.

Both boys attended a watch party Wednesday night. On the way home they plotted the burglary. They got into the store by cutting the panel out of the rear door, gathering up a number of revolvers and watches, a pair of handcuffs and several boxes of cartridges the boys left and went home.

Boys Confessed.
Louis Larson, merchant's policeman, discovered the burglary when making his rounds after midnight. One of the boys confessed to his mother when he got home. He was afraid he was going to be arrested, he said. The parents of the other boy were then notified. The boys took the property back to the store and were then given a severe reprimand by Chief of Police Webster. Mr. Crosby told the police he did not want the boys prosecuted.

TOO BUSY CHECKING UP ON CIGAR FACTORIES

Revenue men here dabbled not with liquor law violators over New Year's party, but with cigarette factories. They were all day yesterday and until 9 o'clock last night on cigar factories. The 11 Aurora cigar factories had their inventories prepared by January 1, as required, and a work of checkers up on them was started at once by the revenue authorities.

"TOO TOUGH TO BURN," OUR HISTORIC STATION

That the old historic Burlington station has so ripened with age that it is too tough to burn was demonstrated again last night when a blaze started on the second floor. The blaze started over the ticket office when it got thru burning last Saturday night, and the station employees said today.

The only damage was a small hole in the floor and the fire probably started from a lighted cigar stub or match thrown carelessly on the floor. About a year ago a similar blaze started behind a radiator where there was a lot of rubbish. This also burned for a time and then "died out of its own free will." "Too tough to burn" was the expression heard today by railroad men.

WOOD ALCOHOL SQUAD SEIZES $10,000 BOOZE

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)
Kewask, N. J., Jan. 2.—A continuation today of the raid begun last night by the "wood alcohol squad" resulted in the seizure of $10,000 worth of illicit whiskey, including two wagon loads from the saloons of Abraham Amsterdam and his father-in-law, Max East.

William Landow, a salesman, admitted, according to the police that he had sold Amsterdam five barrels of alcohol at $20 a gallon. The alcohol was withdrawn from a stock Landow said he had stored for the purpose of exporting in the barbers supply business of a side line. Amsterdam and Landow have been without bail.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Questions and Answers

A and B are partners in a business venture. Both are married. In 1919, the partnership made $3,000. Must they file a return?

Answer.—Yes. They must file a return for the partnership. As individuals, however, they are not required to file a return, as their exemption is $2,000 each.

Special instructions to farmers:

21. What personal income taxes are imposed upon income received during the calendar year 1919?

The normal income tax of every individual citizen or resident of the United States is at the rate of 4 per cent upon the first $1,000 of the net income in excess of credits allowed, and 8 per cent upon the excess over that amount.

24. Am I required to make any return of income wholly exempt from income tax?

The law requires a statement showing the number and amount of such obligations, securities, bonds and income received therefrom. There is a place on the return form for showing such information.

26. What is meant by "gross income"?

Gross income includes gains, profits and income derived from every source whatever, unless wholly exempt from income tax.

27. The only books of account which I have ever kept are those of receipts and disbursements. (How shall I compute my gross income?)

You must include in gross income the proceeds of sales of all stock or other farm products. With respect to animals purchased and used solely as draft and work animals or only for breeding purposes, which may be added, any advance above the cost reduced by depreciation sustained in the manner described in answer to question 25, general instructions, is to be included in gross income. There must also be included in the gross income gains, profits and income from all other sources.

28. What items of gross income does not include?

products purchased in previous years for resale or the expense of producing stock or products on the farm has been claimed as a deduction or taken into consideration in ascertaining the farmer's liability to income tax for some year prior to 1919, the entire proceeds of the sale are to be returned as income for the year in which the sale was made, for the reason that the farmer having once received the benefit of the deduction is not again entitled to it. If, however, such cost or expense has not been claimed as a deduction, or has not been taken into consideration in ascertaining the farmer's liability to income tax for a previous year, the amount of such cost or expense may be deducted from the selling price of the stock or farm products and the difference only returned as gross income.

21. I rent a farm on shares. When is my share of the crops and stock to be taken into consideration in making up my return?

In the year in which they are sold converted into the equivalent of cash.

NO CANADA PAPER EMBARGO

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)
Washington, Jan. 2.—Authoritative denial of rumors that the Canadian government contemplated an embargo on the export of news print paper has been received by the bureau of commerce. Canadian mills were said to be running at capacity, turning out about 2,775 short tons daily, of which 99 per cent is exported, most of it to the United States.

ONE OR MANY MOOSEHEARTS?

Meeting Being Held to Decide Where New Institutions Are to Be Located.

BUILDING PROGRAM IS UP

Within the next 24 hours it will be decided whether Mooseheart at the present location is to be enlarged to include a home for aged and infirmed members of the order and a sanitarium for the care of tubercular members, without regard to climatic conditions or whether it will be voted to establish other Moosehearts at other points in the north and west, or on the Pacific coast, and the tubercular sanitarium, probably in Colorado.

The executive committee of the board of governors of Mooseheart went into session at Mooseheart today. The foregoing decision is the biggest problem before the committee, which also will transact other routine business.

The full board of governors goes into session tomorrow noon and will continue in session over Sunday. The board will make definite plans for new building work at Mooseheart during the present year.

Building Plans. It is probable that the governors will decide to go ahead with the building of the baby nursery this year. This nursery is to be the home of children between the ages of one day and three years. The buildings, miniature affairs, are to form a part of the construction. It probably also will be decided to complete two or three large buildings already under construction and the construction of ten or a dozen more small dormitories in the tentative program.

The present year promises to be one of the most active years seen in the building line at Mooseheart. Supreme Secretary Rodney H. Brandon said today.

FORM FITTING TROUSERS WITH FRILLS FOR MEN

SHIRTS WITH LACE COLLARS AND BRIGHT COLLARS TO BE WORN IN 1920.

Paris, Jan. 1.—Form fitting trousers with frills at the ankle and shirts with lace collars and cuffs will make the well dressed man of 1920 just as chic and dapper as his delectable little sister if he will wear them.

Parisian tailors, aided by designers of feminine things, have gone way back to 18th and 19th centuries for the starting new styles now made up into modern for exhibition in the smart shops for men.

These new styles will be successful, says Maurice Vire, president of the tailors' union, a sartorial artist. "There will be a cloak about as long as the ordinary claw hammer coat. Around the ankles of the trousers there will be a shirred flounce."

Your friends, the English gentlemen of fashion, desire many bright colors, but no more. They want brilliant reds and greens and yellows without error of Spain or Italy, not France. No one here shall mistake yet, yet pointing to the eye-dark blue, gray, purple color, dark wine and rusty brown.

FIVE BELOW IN CHICAGO, MAN FREEZES TO DEATH

The Montreal Free Press says that Chicago, Jan. 2.—With the thermometer registering 5 below zero at 6 o'clock this morning an unidentified man was found frozen to death in the snow.

He apparently was walking to work as a full dinner pail was found at his side.

STOMACH ON A STRIKE

"Pape's Diapiesin" puts Sour, Gassy, Acid Stomachs in order at once!

Wonder what upset your stomach?—which portion of your food and the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if it sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour, head dizzy and aches, belch gases and acids and eructate, undigested food—just eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapiesin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs so little at drug stores.

Spain Noted for Lovely Women Told in Song and Legend

TORTOLA VALENCIA.

The dance clicking heels, rattling scarfs, smiling lips and behind tantalizing fans—all these are called up by mention of the beauty of old Spain. Black flashing eyes are usually thought of, too, but black eyes and hair are not universal, as supposed. The eyes flash, but are much more often brown, with soft brown hair to match. In the northern provinces of Spain blondes are often seen among the beauties.

Miss Tortola Valencia, a Spanish beauty, shows the charming characteristics that link the ladies of Spain with the romance, poetry and literature of the world. Vivacity and amiability of expression are enhanced by a smooth, creamy skin, with brilliantly red cheeks. This lovely skin is retained by Spanish women even through middle age and into old age.

Physically, the women of Spain are long-lived, healthy, vigorous and well-developed. They are generally of middle height and are especially renowned for their graceful carriage and the beauty of their feet and ankles.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

same. The cat bird, robin and singing bird are hard at work do-

important to know how many birds have, and why there are not more. Counts so far taken indicate that there is, on an average, one pair nesting birds to the acre on eastern American farm lands. But they also show that where birds have been properly protected and encouraged, there are three and even four pairs to the acre. In a word, we have only about a third as many birds as right have. And there is little doubt that what if we had three times as many birds we would have a great deal more to eat and wear and use. Of course, birds do damage here and there. No one, except a few sentimentalists, wants all the birds protected, all the time. It is intelligent control of nature that is needed. Indiscriminate protection is no better than indiscriminate destruction. If reed-birds are devouring rice-crops in South Carolina and Georgia they must be shot. When great flocks of wild geese settle on the mouting fields in California and nip the crops off close to the ground, the farmers sometimes have to hire regiments of men to shoot at them, and special permits to kill them in the closed season are issued by the government.

For is there any harm in killing part of the natural increase of game birds. Nature intended that these birds should furnish food for other animals. We have killed off many of the natural enemies of the quail for example, and it is right that we should gather a crop of quail every year.

But the trouble is that we overdo the killing business. And our attitude is wrong.

de toward nature is ignorant, and ignorance never led to intelligent control of anything. The bird census is therefore an important undertaking, both as a survey of a valuable natural resource and by reason of the interest it arouses in our indispensable allies against the insects.

Tanlac.

William Johnson, who left Peoria Illinois a few years ago in search of health, came back to his old home for a visit, recently so improved that his friends and relatives hardly knew him on first sight.

A few years ago," said Mr. Johnson, "I moved to Allens Park, Colorado, my present home, for no other reason than to try and get back my long lost health. I was so completely undown in account of stomach trouble, disordered kidneys and nervousness that I couldn't do any good at my trade as carpenter. But neither change of climate nor any kind of medicine did me any good and I kept

This gas caused my heart to skip beats and, at times, the pains in my stomach were so severe that I would just lie down on the floor and roll over and over. My stomach was so large, that it burst the fire and I often had such terrible headaches that I could not get out of the house for a day or two at a time. My kidneys bothered me con-

"Finally a friend of mine, knowing my dreadful condition, begged me to try Tangier. I was so anxious to get well that I was willing to try anything, so I started on Tangier and in a few days I had an appetite that absolutely surprised me. In a short time I was eating things that I had not dared touch in twelve years and they did not hurt me. I began sleeping better and could see some improvement every day. So I just stuck right to Tanlac and it has made a new man of me. I now have good business in Colorado and am able to look after it because my health is fine. I am thirty pounds heavier than when I began taking Tanlac, haven't an ache or a pain, and can work as well as I ever could in my life. My stomach is in fine shape. I eat like

FOURTEENTH U. S. CENSUS IS BEGUN

Work of Counting 112,000,000 Persons by 85,000 Hired Enumerators Starts Today.

(By Associated Press Special Wire.) Washington, Jan. 2.—The fourteenth decennial census began today with 85,000 enumerators engaged in counting the men, women and children of the United States and collecting data on the resources of the nation. The census is expected to be completed within two weeks but the compilation of the figures probably will require four months.

The population is estimated at between 107,000,000 and 112,000,000 compared with 75,990,000 in 1910. When the first census was taken in 1790 during George Washington's administration the population was reported at 3,900,000.

SOCIETY

To Give Menus.

The Aurora Community chorus will hold a rehearsal for the Menusale Sunday at 2 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. Every person in Aurora who has ever eaten the Menusale is cordially invited to join the chorus for the performance which will be given Sunday, January 18.

For Miss Ulrich. Mrs. John Manzer of Kaneville entertained the Country Club at her home Saturday evening in honor of Miss Myrtle Ulrich who is spending the holidays at her home in this city. She will return to Washington, D. C. to resume her work for the government the first of January.

To Detroit. Miss Ruth Stephens, daughter of Wiley W. Stephens, who served in overseas campaign during the war, will leave soon for Detroit where she will engage in Y. W. C. A. duties.

Visiting in Aurora. Everett Bartlett, formerly of Aurora, who engaged in the tourist industry in the east, came on to spend the holidays with Dr. Colwell and Miss Frances Colwell. Mrs. Bartlett formerly Miss Jennie Colwell, with her two sons, has been in Aurora for some time.

W. R. C. Luncheon. The W. R. C. will serve a luncheon to their members Tuesday, January 6, at 1 o'clock in G. A. R. hall. All members desiring to attend are requested to telephone No. 1431-R not later than Saturday.

CLEMENCEAU WOULD REST

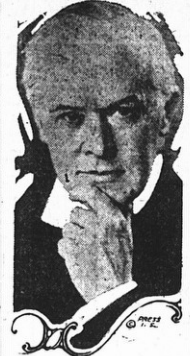

(By Associated Press Special Wire.) Paris, Jan. 2.—Premier Clemenceau declared today he could not continue to represent the department of war in the chamber of deputies, adding that "after the effort of the past year I would be loath to start again on a task with a fear that my strength will fall me before it could be completed." "Everything is not finished with our victory," he continued. "We must still accomplish formidable work demanding patience for which France may be incapable. I will always have a duty to perform the day I have ceased to be a member of parliament."

New Airplane Device. Calgary, Alta., Jan. 2.—Robert Lagarde, a local business man and inventor, is conducting rather extensive experiments with a device which is intended to enable airplanes to ascend directly from their take-off and to descend without a glide, if necessary. Several former aviators are said to be interested in the device, which it is claimed, also can be used to counter act adverse winds.

GERMAN PRESIDENT IN NEW YEAR PLEA

(By Associated Press Special Wire.) Berlin, Jan. 1.—President Ebert requested the chancellor to publish the following new year manifesto today: "In the year just ended chaos was averted and the unity of the empire was maintained and consolidated. Under pressure of a reckless foreign foe we were compelled to conclude a peace threatening the honor and welfare of our nation and placing the fruits of our work of past and future years at the mercy of foreigners. The year which begins must decide whether Germany, despite all difficulties will maintain herself as a nation and state and develop her economic life on a sound basis or whether, through internal quarrels she will definitely collapse and bury the hopes, even of her future generation. With these prospects of our fate Germans in view of the common danger to close their ranks in order that each one according to his capacity may help to the utmost in the restoration of the fatherland."

CANADA SOLDIERS TAKING UP FARMS

More Than 5,000 Returned Service Men Secure Free Lands in British Columbia.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 2.—Official survey of the returned soldier problem in British Columbia during the past year, has caused provincial officials to predict that the various soldier colonies established in 1919 will be merged into one great colony, directed by soldiers who fought in the great war.

Success of British Columbia's soldier colonies has attracted attention throughout the British empire. The only government problem which has arisen in the province is the heavy influx of returned soldiers from other provinces.

It has been estimated that several thousand returned veterans, who enlisted in some of the provinces of the dominion are seeking to become residents of British Columbia.

More than 5,000 Total Land. Records of the Soldier Settlement board show that more than 5,000 soldiers have decided to take up land in the province, and that 2,500 are actually on homesteads. Various soldier settlements have sprung up, the leading ones being at Camp Berville on Vancouver Island and Camp Lyster, near Creston.

Public School at the old Berville colony, also is to be colonized. In the soldier colonies, no one but service men and their families can settle. All of the officers, even representatives in the provincial parliament are men who fought. Some weeks ago German and Austrian colonists made vigorous efforts to settle in a fruit region adjacent to one of the smaller colonies. They were "informally" deported despite their protests. The government did not take any action as the "deportation," while rather vigorous, was bloodless.

SHABBONA WOMAN DIES AFTER LONG, USEFUL LIFE

Shabbona, Ill., Jan. 2.—Mrs. Ida Moore, who died here December 19, was born in Kentucky county, the youngest of eight children of Lucian and John C. Pope, died.

Ida May spent her childhood days on the farm near her parents' home near Fox Station, Ill., and attended school at the old Berville colony, which was within walking distance of her home. When she was 21 years of age she moved with her parents and family to Plano, Ill., where she continued her studies until completion of her school education.

Upon the finish of her school work, she entered a line of commercial occupation in which by her thoroughness she proved of inestimable value to her employers. Continuing in this same line of occupation until she was united in marriage to Dr. Frederick B. Moore, which event took place at Plano on June 21, 1885. After her marriage, Mrs. Moore took up her household duties in the new home in Plano, residing in that city the following three years, and at the expiration of that time moved to Shabbona, Ill., where she and her husband resided.

During her residence in Shabbona she was learned to be loved by all. Her kind ways and amiable disposition being a remarkable asset, always looking to aid and assist in need. Her kind ways and the careful consideration of others first, were known by all even during her long period of sickness.

Upon the organization of Pokenish chapter, No. 618 Order of the Eastern Star, Shabbona, she was installed as the first worthy matron, filling the office with credit to herself thru the exercise of her usual methods and ideas of that which is worth doing is worth doing well.

After many thousands altogether lovely. Then in the course of time she was thru her sickness compelled to give up her duties of her home and elsewhere and then still later it became necessary to remain in bed. Besides a loving husband and a fond father she leaves behind to mourn her loss three sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Nellie Seff, Mrs. Edna Sawyer, William J. Pope of Plano, Mrs. Callian Scheyer of Rockford, Ill., and George F. Pope of Shabbona.

ANDREW AND IMOGENE

Little Life Confidences in the Experience of a Couple Philosophic, Tho Married by ROE FULMERSON

"Ouch," said Andrew, fingering his forehead. "I believe none of that laundry pie and indigestible sandwich fare of lunch are having a four-round bout in my little tummy."

"Andrew, I wish you would stop that way of your lunch and not eat at those awful quick lunch places. The man who leagued them has drawn and quartered," said Imogene.

"My dear woman," said Andrew, "a quick lunch is an important item in our modern civilization as a telephone, an automobile, an umpire or a moving staircase."

"By its aid a man can read enough copy in three minutes into his engine to keep up steam for 24 hours, and most likely it will keep him awake all night and enable him to think up some new scheme to make money the next day."

"How could the country have made the progress it has without the aid of the quick lunch?" In a very proper way, answered Imogene, "the business men have cleared the Indians, rattlesnakes and mosquitoes off of some square miles of land, have planted it in wheat, have put electric lights, sewer and gas mains over it, and brought in the most beautiful team of the state of perfection and we have been a busy people."

"The quick lunch has come to a lion to this pasting and broasting nation, and instead of sitting down to a meal, we are standing with a machine in your right hand, you can stretch in the back of your head, a half a raft and a stack of books on the side, and consume and pay for them inside of three minutes by the watch."

HOME MADE RECIPES CATARRH AND COLDS

Nonexpensive—Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholated Eucalypti and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils three times daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that you can do it by any other means will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

WAS NERVOUS AND RUN DOWN

RESTORED TO NORMAL HEALTH BY BIO-FERON

"I feel I owe you people a world of gratitude for the benefit I have received in using your wonderful remedy—Bio-Feron Tablets, which have completely restored me to normal conditions," says Joseph E. Webb of Muncie, Indiana. Bio-Feron is without doubt the most rapid and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, enervated men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if you are not in better health—if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, you are not using it as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand, or can easily get it for you. Seven Wonderful days for seven days—Wonderful results.

"In a quick lunch they give you the poorest food and the most uncomfortable seats they can devise so you will go away quickly and give room for someone else. You can get out so quick that when you look at your watch you think the service was good instead of bad."

"I know some quick," such experts who can loop a doughnut on three fingers, a mug of coffee on the fourth, 19 cents' worth of spaghetti, on the fifth and with only a knife in the other hand consume half a cranberry pie, all the food on his left hand and drink a mug of milk in 12 minutes.

"In most quick lunch places they have a model for the patrons to imitate. The model is a peroxide young lady with pendulous earrings, who chews gum three times. If the lunch-cashier he will gain a minute on the amateur who chews in the natural way."

"In most quick lunch rooms the honor system of payment is in vogue. The bill of fare is painted on the wall and when you grab your eats off the counter and bolt them you go to the young lady at the desk and pay your bill according to what you consumed. This is possible because every man who goes out the door must give her something and no matter how small the sum is she gets more than it is worth. The more you eat the lunch room out of the more you suffer that night."

"In most quick lunch rooms the honor system of payment is in vogue. The bill of fare is painted on the wall and when you grab your eats off the counter and bolt them you go to the young lady at the desk and pay your bill according to what you consumed. This is possible because every man who goes out the door must give her something and no matter how small the sum is she gets more than it is worth. The more you eat the lunch room out of the more you suffer that night."

BATAVIA'S COAL

CRISIS IS PASSED

City Has Growing Supply of Fuel and Special Committee Is Discharged by Mayor.

Batavia, Ill., Jan. 2.—The fuel committee, which has had control of the coal used commercially in Batavia for the past few weeks, has been honorably discharged by Mayor James P. Fitzgerald. They may, however, be recalled for the same line of work should occasion arise later in the season.

Batavia's greatest shortage during the fuel administration reign has been in the line of soft coal. There are now 200 tons of soft coal in town and more cars on the way, and it is believed that the dealers will be able to handle the fuel situation without outside help.

This morning the thermometer stood at 13 degrees below zero, and the fact that there is a plentiful supply of fuel in town is about as welcome news as any that the new year brings.

GENEVANS ATTEND

CHICAGO WEDDING

Geneva, Ill., Jan. 2.—Many from here attended the wedding of Charles Pope, Jr. and Miss Marion Hitt yesterday afternoon in the Newborn Street Episcopal church of Chicago. The service was celebrated at 1:30 o'clock.

The affair was a society event of the afternoon and the ladies of this popular young couple, a profusion of southern and northern flowers were used with red and white flowers in a most artistic manner in the decorations.

The bride party was composed of five young women friends of the bride, and the bridesmaids of the north and south. Their gowns were the color of the rainbow. Picture hats of dark brown with huge orange bouquets of sweet peas were worn with these dainty dresses.

The brides wore a handsome gown of white fluff silk and her veil was of wonderful lace. The bride's gown was made of blue and the veil just touched the floor. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

David Pope, a younger brother of the groom, acted as best man and Leon Wheeler, uncle of the groom was head usher.

The couple plan to enjoy an extended southern trip and will later reside in Chicago.

Better Babies Need

Ample Room to Play

United States Children's Bureau. In a home for children, we should remember that health depends very largely on surroundings.

A detached house is more favorable than a tenement, and drop because every side is free to light, air and sunshine. Little children, like plants, thrive in sunlight and drop when deprived of fresh air.

The surroundings of the house where small children play should be kept clean, free from litter or refuse. Low-swinging places should be drained. The collar of the house should be dry and clean.

Bright, Airy Rooms.

In the house or apartment the sunnier corner room should be given up to the nursery. A porch is a most desirable addition, especially to an apartment house and should be considered in choosing a child's home.

The baby should take his nap on the porch and the little child will find it a fine play place. It is better to have a play box and a few interesting playthings.

The room children live in should be well ventilated, and at night the windows should be kept open. The house must be kept warm, but at 65 to 68 degrees Fahrenheit is a healthy temperature for children. It is better to pay a coal bill that a doctor bill, and too much sickness comes from keeping rooms hermetically sealed in cold weather.

Look to Call His Own.

The room children live in should be simple, and if possible, washable. Wooden or ironium floors are most easily cleaned. In the nursery it is well to have as little furniture as possible, and no upholstered pieces.

Every child should have a bed to himself, and clean bedding, sufficient to warm for cold weather. If a child is to sleep outdoors in winter, he needs more clothing under than over him. Sleeping bags are most convenient for outdoor sleeping.

A child's friends should be welcome in his home, and there should be a nook or room for him to call his own. It has been said that a child is a baby's environment, and it takes an understanding, loving mother to make it a baby's environment, and it takes a child's friends to make it a child's environment.

DISCUSS ARTICLE TEN

IN TREATY CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press Lead Wire.) Washington, Jan. 2.—Republican and Democratic leaders of the senate gave attention today to the negotiations for a peace treaty compromise conference with various members of their respective parties.

It was understood that the article of reservation was given the greater share of attention by members of both parties and that so far neither side had advanced a reservation which the other would consider favorably.

MRS. PARKER PLACED ON

FAIR PRICE COMMISSION

Mrs. T. J. Parker has been asked by Mrs. Joseph Bowen, state chairman of the women's department of the fair price commission, to take charge of the organization work among the women of Aurora. It is the plan to call a meeting of the women who were members of the local council, Women's Council for National Defense.

Mrs. Bowen has suggested that the women secure the cooperation of the schools, churches, theaters and newspapers. Minutes will be asked to preach sermons on the high cost of living and four minutes speakers will be sent into the theaters. The cooperation of the various Parkers-Batavia will also be sought.

SCRAPER WORKS TO

ENLARGE ITS OUTPUT

The Western Wheel Scraper Works company has taken over the entire dump wagon and cart manufacturing end of the business of the Studebaker Manufacturing company.

South Bend, Ind., and in the future will add these lines to the business here.

The manufacture on the dump wagon and carts will be consolidated by the Scraper Works company. The dump wagon was made here which means that eventually the company here will have to build an additional plant and also add many new employees, an official announced today.

The Studebaker company will restrict its efforts in the future to the manufacture of automobiles and farm wagons only, it being one of the pioneers of the farm wagon industry.

FIGHTING IN INDIA

WONDERFUL VEIL FOR THE BELGIAN QUEEN

Flanders Subjects, While Surrounded by Misery of War, Make Unique Piece in Secret.

The Queen of the Belgians has received from the lace and embroidery works of Belgium a marvelous veil, surrounded by all the misfortune and misery of war, these loyal subjects have toiled in secret for four long years to produce a unique piece which they offer in homage to their queen.

Such is their devotion to their sovereign.

A French publication describes the well-designed by the most famous of Belgian artists and executed by the most expert workmen, perfect in every detail of mesh and motif. Twelve thousand hours were required in workmanship, for the veil contains not less than 12,000 points. It displays the almost unknown art of light and shade, a difficult effect and one of rare beauty. It serves for the first time, perhaps the question of perspective. The entire piece weighs but four and one-half ounces.

In the center of the veil are the Belgian arms, and in the four corners of the central panel the arms of the cities of Tournai, Namur, Liège, and Brussels. The four side panels represent the industries of weaving, fishing, hop-picking and dairying.

HINKLEY.

Mrs. August Hinkley died at her home northwest of town Friday morning after a lingering illness. Twenty thousand hours were required in workmanship, for the veil contains not less than 12,000 points. It displays the almost unknown art of light and shade, a difficult effect and one of rare beauty. It serves for the first time, perhaps the question of perspective. The entire piece weighs but four and one-half ounces.

The Ladies Aid society met Friday afternoon in the parlors of the church. The ladies tied a comforter for Queen Esther home in Chicago after which the hosts served meat sandwiches, coffee, pickles and cake. Mrs. James Vahle died at her home here in town Friday morning after a lingering illness. She leaves her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Hubbard of Shabbona and three grandchildren. The funeral was held from the home at 10:30. The Reverend Mr. Loti of Geneva officiating. Burial took place in Greenwood cemetery.

LARGE RELIEF FUND FOR GERMAN CHILDREN

(By Associated Press Lead Wire.) Berlin, Jan. 1.—The American section of the German Red Cross in the receipt of a check for $200,000, the largest sum donated by relief committees in the United States for the benefit of tubercular and under-nourished German children. More than 2,000 of these children will thus be able to go to sections where climate and food conditions promise them health.

Herbert Hoover's plan to coordinate American food relief so far as it concerns the transfer of personal donations from Americans to Germany is hailed with enthusiasm as it is believed it will terminate abuses resulting from indiscriminate shipments.

NO DEARTH OF LIQUOR IN BERLIN; PITY U. S.

(By Associated Press Lead Wire.) Berlin, Jan. 1.—In the midst of the merry making incident to Berlin's second after the war New Year's eve, thoughts of "rain" United States resorted to Americans who are in the city every now and then, at the Adlon and Bristol hotels where Americans assembled, someone was heard to remark:

"I wonder what they're drinking in Broadway tonight."

Berlin did not suffer any dearth of beverages, thanks to the "hole in the west" thru which liquid refreshment found its way to the capital. In anticipation of luxury and turn over taxes which will be effective after today, Berlin had its final fling last night.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH

(By Associated Press Lead Wire.) Racine, Wis., Jan. 2.—Mrs. William Bower, 38, was burned to death yesterday while attempting to start a fire in the kitchen range by the use of kerosene. An explosion followed, enveloping the woman in flames and she was dead when assistance arrived.

Of Interest to Women

Everybody's doing it. What? Why letting the women vote, of course. One by one the countries are falling in line and granting the franchise to them and now the latest news is that the women of the Philippines will soon be balloting. Mme. Jaime de Vera, wife of one of the representatives from the Philippine Islands in the United States, says: "The women of my country will soon join the many women voters of the world, for the governor general of the islands has been recommended woman suffrage."

Mme. De Vera, who recently arrived in New York from Washington, is of the belief that in the land of the Philippines, women are equal to men in everything and that they have been for some time. She herself is a very charming woman and well versed in the politics of her country.

Miss Ethel Terrell, recently appointed county superintendent of public instruction in Buncombe county, N. C., is the first woman in that state to hold such a position.

The first woman ever elected to public office in Illinois was Mrs. Amelia Hobbs, who was elected a justice of the peace in Jersey county in 1875.

Tristan's New Marriage Role

The Favorite Wagnerian Tenor, Divorced From His Operatic Isolde, but True to Romantic Tradition, Weds the Beautiful Cuban He Loved at First Sight.

THE favorite role of Mr. Eduardo Ferrari-Fontana is Tristan. Or it used to be, before the war came along and poor Wagner was dug from his mould to turn beast with the rest of the Germans. In the old days, the Roman tenor went up and down the extreme dimensions of Italy trilling and sobbing the ecstasies of the liebesleben and liebestod. He did as much as any singer to persuade the Latin public to the tidal emotions of King Mark's betrayer and the oceanic music of Herr Wagner. Trilling was his forte, his passion. When he was not shouting it from the stage, he was telling it to the interviewers—Tristan, the greatest of the operas. For that matter, George Moore and T. and better judges agree with him. No fault to find here.

But Tristan, like other works of the imagination, like all yarns, no matter how immoral, contains a moral. It may be, as Mr. Moore tries to persuade himself, that one opera excites a world of Isolde—or Wotan-doms. I think it would be rather difficult to bring the average husband to this view, particularly in Italy. When all's said and done, the ordinary fellow will look upon the woes of deceived King Mark and conclude, in his practical way, that a little marriage is a dangerous thing.

Maria Esther Taliez, of Cuban birth and Washington society note, now the bride of Signor Ferrari-Fontana.

Mme. Margareta Matzenauer, (former wife of Ferrari-Fontana), and their baby daughter Adrienne.

And what has all this to do with Signor Ferrari-Fontana? Give ear. The tenor remarried, just the other day, remarried after an earlier venture that caused him some woe, albeit the courts held the guilt on his own side. Yes, spite the lesson of Tristan: spite the experience of his own wedding, he has done it again. Of course, both Tristan and experience are wrong. Marriage is a persistent and popular indulgence. One might say one opera can hope to unmake such an institution. And, besides, Mr. Ferrari-Fontana is a tenor. Of that presently.

The bride of the singer was Senorita Maria Esther Taliez, of Orizaba, Havana and Washington, a charming and richly dowered Cuban girl, of the Cuban social creme de la creme, and by all accounts and her photographs a most beautiful young person. She is, indeed, what the newspapers love to call a noted beauty; and her father, Senor Lorenzo Taliez y Cespedez, is said to be one of the wealthiest sugar planters on his sweet island. Moreover, she is the niece of Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedez, the Cuban Minister at Washington, and thus was one of the reigning lovelinesses of our capital diplomatic set. She had been resident in Washington with her uncle

The meeting between this happy pair was just unconventional enough to be in keeping. Signor Fontana had been in Italy, serving with his regiment. The Italian Government, perhaps discerning that a distinguished tenor is of greater value alive than dead—a rare discernment for government intelligence, by the way—dismissed him with honor and let him go back to his singing. He returned to that she couldn't understand a word. She said it in Spanish. The tenor spoke this fluid tongue quite freely, having once been engaged in his singing in South America.

Signor Fontana and the two lovely girls began to talk Spanish. He explained the speeches to them. He helped them through their difficulties. Then he took them home.

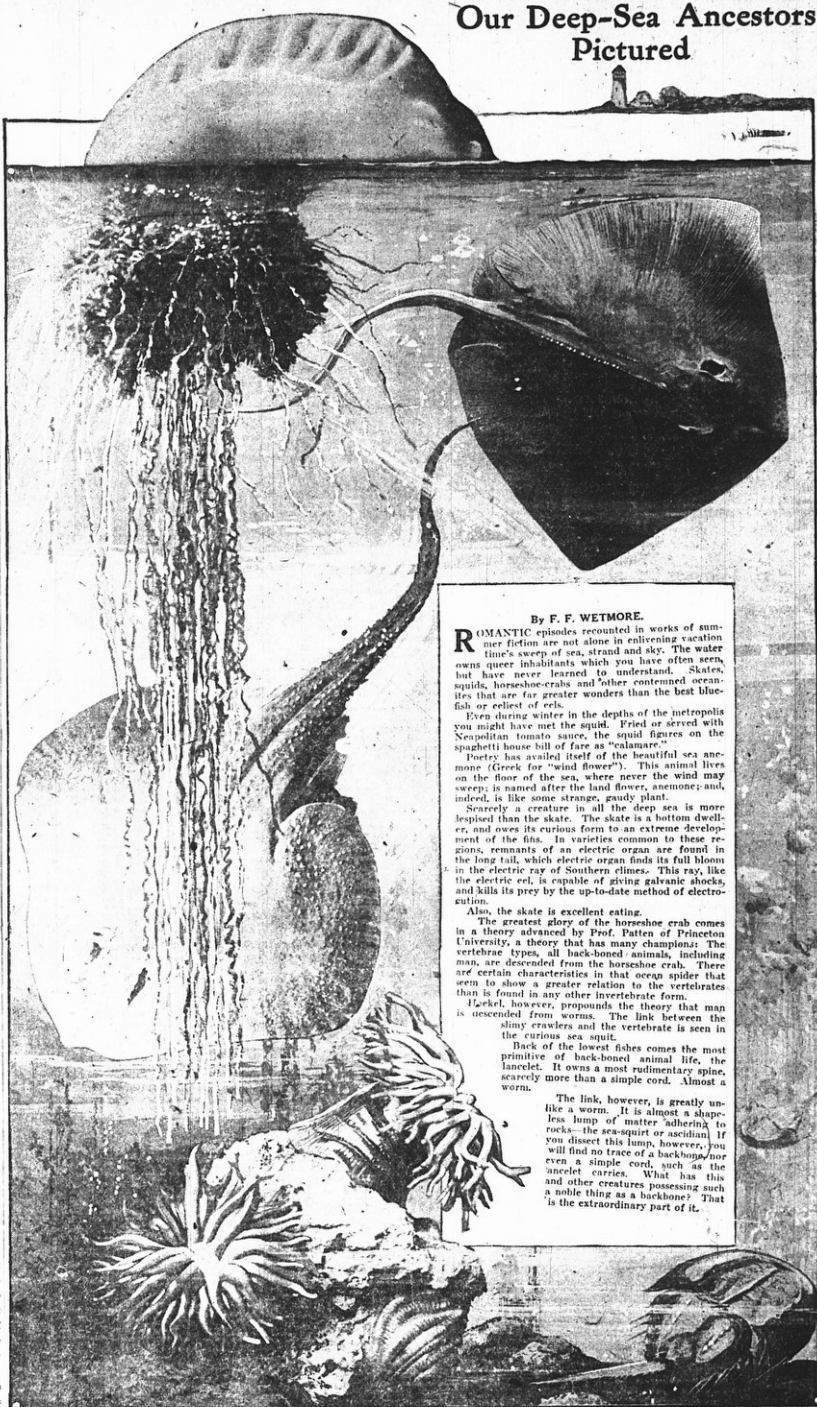

"Love at first sight," he said later. It must have been, for one of the girls was Senorita Taliez, and she has just married him.

The lady is just twenty-one; her husband confesses to a slightly reluctant forty. After all, not an uncommon disparity in this day—especially when the man wears about his mature self the young veil of ever youthful art.

So these noble anticipations ought to blow into felicity. Signor Ferrari-Fontana is a man of education and standing, entirely apart from his artistic stature. He was educated in medicine—like most of the sons of notable physicians. But he deserted the materia medica for the materia musica. Tracing his ascent from small parts in South American light opera to Wagner is a boreome affair. The fact that Ferrari-Fontana is today recognized as perhaps the very first artist among the Latin tenors is enough. He has long been rather loosely attached to the Metropolitan, where his memorable night was the American premiere of Italo Montemezzi's "L'Amore dei tre Re," surely the finest opera recently come from Italy.

Owing to circumstances, of which the stupid New York divorce law was the chiefest, the ceremony was performed in Newark, N. J., where it is not considered a punishment to forbid marriage.

No one needs reminding that, until June, 1917, Mr. Fontana was the husband of Mme. Margareta Matzenauer,

Our Deep-Sea Ancestors Pictured

By F. F. WETMORE.

ROMANTIC episodes recounted in works of summer fiction are not alone in relieving vacation time's weary of sea, strand and sky. The water owns queer inhabitants which you have often seen, but have never learned to understand. Squids, horseshoe crabs and other contorted creatures that are far greater wonders than the best bluefish or eel of the sea.

Even during winter in the depths of the metropolis you might have met the squid. Fried or served with Neapolitan tomato sauce, the squid figures on the spaghetti house bill of fare as "calamari."

Poetry has availed itself of the beautiful sea anemone (Greek for "wind flower"). This animal lives on the floor of the sea, where never the wind may sweep; is named after the land flower, anemone; and, indeed, is like some stranger, staid plant.

Scarcely a creature in all the deep sea is more leoparded than the skate. The skate is a bottom dweller, and owes its curious form to an extreme development of the fins. In varieties common to these regions, remnants of an electric organ are found in the long tail, which electric organ finds its full bloom in the electric ray of Southern climes. This ray, like the electric eel, is capable of giving galvanic shocks, and kills its prey by the up-to-date method of electrocution.

Also, the skate is excellent eating. The greatest glory of the horseshoe crab comes in a theory advanced by Prof. Patten of Princeton University, a theory that has many champions. The vertebrate types, all back-boned animals, including man, are descended from the horseshoe crab. There are certain characteristics in that ocean spider that seem to show a greater relation to the vertebrates than is found in any other invertebrate form.

Lancel, however, propounds the theory that man is descended from worms. The link between the slimy creature and the vertebrate is seen in the curious sea slug.

Back of the lowest fishes comes the most primitive of back-boned animal life, the lancelet. It owns a most rudimentary spine, scarcely more than a simple cord. Almost a worm.

The link, however, is greatly unlike a worm. It is almost a shapeless lump of matter adhering to rocks—the sea-slug or sea-slug. If you dissect this lump, however, you will find no trace of a backbone, nor even a simple cord, such as the aneliet carries. What has this and other creatures possessing such a noble thing as a backbone? That is the extraordinary part of it.

the Metropolitan Opera's chief Wagnerian contract, an Isolde of the highest reputation. Perhaps there was something fated about the wedding of these two singers of counter-roles. If Tristan and his Isolde must go down to their long sleep in the play at every long performance, life permits itself a touch of ardentism in making them suffer wedding in reality. That apparently was what happened.

Tristan Ferrari-Fontana and Isolde Matzenauer were wed in 1912. In 1913 a little daughter arrived—an opera baby—and was christened Adrienne. Soon afterward the war came along. At this point the war may seem crassly irrelevant, but it played its part in this marriage as in most other things of life. The pertinence became apparent in 1916, when rumors of unhappiness in the household began to be heard. Soon afterward Mme. Matzenauer sued for divorce and her husband responded by asking a separation. Signor Fontana asserted that the war had caused all the trouble. He was an Italian, he declared, needlessly perhaps, and his wife an Austrian. She was not neutral. Indeed, he declared, her sympathies leaned most Teutonically away. Naturally there was discord, especially since Signor Ferrari-Fontana was enthusiastically Italian, having gone back to his country and served as sub-lieutenant in a cavalry regiment until discharged.

The wife objected to such explanation of the difficulty. She averred that the obstacle to happiness was physical and of feminine gender. With all a woman's lack of delicacy in such matters, she named five alleged co-respondents, including some servants and two young ladies at the Hotel Quirinal in Rome. This Isolde of the stage felt that a distortion of the opera story whereby she became, by a trick transposed in life into the painful predicament of King Mark, was too humiliating for endurance.

Her husband denied violently any Tristanine peccabilities, but Justice

Donnelly somehow was not impressed. After some weeks of advisement he accorded the contract her freedom and the custody of her child. At the same time he forbade, in accordance with law, the remarriage of Signor Ferrari-Fontana in New York State. That was why the wedding was adjourned to Newark.

A tenor's life is subtle and peculiar, without, within. Two factors are at work on him forever and ceaselessly, making him a very sprig of orange blossom. First the psychic. Look down the roll of the operas and seek out those based on life hard-riding triangle. As among plays, a respectable majority, too obvious to enumerate. It is merely worth noting that the gallant is always the tenor—Tristan, Hamlet, Rigoletto, the Duke, Pinkerton, Desdemona, and the rest, even to Athanor and Parsifal. Gallantry, like all of human conduct, is half-art, half-nature. The tenor, always about and within him, always spreading its nets. No wonder tenors, even Tristan, wed and rewed.

some one else's home, with the gallant habit.

Enough danger in itself for the poor tenor, but more waits without. He who draws forth love perishes by love. The dear ladies sitting out in the audience, from the horseshoe and pit up to the clamorous gallery, watch the tenor hero evoking illicit sighs from the ample bosoms of choral heroines and feel some stirrings in their own. Never by any chance are they compelled by the bass lamentations of the deluded spouses or the baritone blasphemies of angry rivals. Somehow the heroic tenor grips the ladies' fancies, no matter how abject the thespian character. The result is that every reigning tenor is the object of ceaseless attack of his fair auditors, low and high. The mash note is to the tenor's life as the dun to the householder's.

Thus the tender tradition is always before the eyes, always about and within him, always spreading its nets. No wonder tenors, even Tristan, wed and rewed.

TEACHERS FAVOR COURSE IN THRIFT

Would Make Teaching of Saving
Regular Part of School Work
—Sound Warning of Panic.

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 31.—Establishment of compulsory courses in thrift and saving in the schools of Illinois was unanimously endorsed by the Illinois State Teachers' association at the closing session of the annual convention here this morning.

An advisory committee appointed by the president of the association, J. W. Potts of East St. Louis, is to prepare a course of study in accordance with the government's thrift plan, and to recommend the adoption of the plan in the schools.

The endorsement of the proposed course was embodied in a resolution passed during the final business session of the convention. Stating that "extravagance is becoming a national characteristic and that its increase will tend toward national weakness," the resolution expressed the belief that only thru giving training in the schools in intelligent expenditure and in methods of saving can the present situation be remedied.

BIG CHOIR TO SING IN AURORA SUNDAY

The Emmanuel choir of LaGrange, consisting of 60 men and boys, has been engaged for a concert Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church. The time has been changed from 2:30, the usual hour for these programs, to 4:30 on account of the Sunday train schedule.

This choir, which is under the direction of William Ripley Dorr, has made a number of concert tours but this will be their first appearance in Aurora. Master David Meyer, the boy soprano, is regarded as quite a martinet, according to the many press notices that have been received regarding him. He will sing a solo on this program.

It will be necessary to use the pulpit platform in addition to the choir loft in order to accommodate so large a chorus. The choir is vested in black cassocks and white cuttles. The public is welcomed, only a free will offering being requested.

Adm. Reporting Dies.

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)
Buckeye, N. Y., Dec. 31.—John Denick, dean of the newspaper profession in Buckeye, died here today aged 54 years. In a court case he established the principle that in New York state a newspaper reporter need not divulge the source of information given him. He spent several days in jail on a contempt charge when he refused to give such testimony in a court action.

Questions and Answers

Q. Is it correct to say "two of the Adamses were present"? S. C. W.

A. This form of plural in a case of this sort is entirely correct.

Q. What is the origin of the term "Armageddon"? F. J. G.

A. "Armageddon" was the name of the plain of Megiddo, the famous battlefield of the Jewish nation. It was there that the issue upon which the destiny of the race hangs, had been settled. Armageddon has therefore come to signify the last stand, the battle for existence.

Q. Where is the greatest pipe organ in the world? T. Z. V.

A. What is undoubtedly the largest and probably the greatest pipe organ ever made was that which was played in Festival hall, in St. Louis, during the exposition in 1904. It was originally made for Convention hall in Kansas City, but was never accepted. It remained in storage for years and was then bought by John Wanamaker and installed in his Philadelphia store where it is played every working day. The organ weighs 375,000 pounds.

Q. Does the government make a profit on the pennies it manufactures? V. E. P.

A. Pennies are made of 95 per cent copper and five per cent nickel and zinc. The material which goes into them costs about 22 cents a pound and this pound makes up into 120 one-cent pieces. They are distributed to banks at their face value, so the profit is a dollar a pound, less the cost of manufacture which is not great.

Q. Where can I get a book which will give me a preliminary knowledge of French? T. C. H.

A. The Washington Information bureau of this paper will send you, free of charge, a little book of elementary French, used by the marines when they were going to France, if you will write it, giving your name and address and enclosing a two-cent stamp for return postage. Ask for the French Vocabulary.

ADMIRAL JELICOE IN N. Y.

(By Associated Press Local Wire.) New York, Jan. 2.—Admiral Jellicoe, retired first lord of the British admiralty, who has been making a tour of Canada and mapping out a naval policy for that country, today visited the New York stock exchange as the guest of Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel company. The visitors were greeted with cheers by the brokers and clerks and business was temporarily suspended.

The Mexicans have killed only 653 Americans thus far. They better not make it a thousand, that's all we have to say.

IN THE MOTION PICTURE WORLD

WALLACE REID Supported by Lila Lee as Hawthorne of the U.S.A.

Wallace Reid has a romantic comedy role in his new picture, "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." which is being shown today and Saturday at the Fox theatre. The story was adapted from James H. Fagan's play of the same name in which Douglas Fairbanks starred on the stage some years ago. It centers around the adventures of two American law clerks making a tour of Europe in a rented automobile. Just when they are down to their last penny, Hawthorne, one of the clerks, breaks the bank at Monte Carlo and, laden with wealth, the pair are misdirected into a tiny kingdom.

HOD ELLER TO QUIT GAME

(By Associated Press Local Wire.) Danville, Ill., Jan. 2.—"Doc" Eller, pitcher for the Cincinnati Nationals, who won fame last season when his team won the world's series, has quit the mound and taken a position here as assistant manager of a local coal mining company.

Eller is today considering rejection of his 1920 contract when it comes, the he has not said he will not play some baseball this season. At any rate he is at work today at the mine and in the event he plays this year, it will be his last season and will return to his mine duties when the season ends.

Eller for a long time has wanted to be a business man and is eager to learn the coal business. His decision to leave the diamond is final.

JESSE L. LASKY presents

WALLACE REID

Supported by LILA LEE

"Hawthorne of the U.S.A."

A Paramount Aircraft Picture

HE BROKE THE BANK AT MONTE CARLO!

With his rebel soul and a jingle of coins, he started out to topple over kings.

Stumbled into a 2.75 per cent revolution and brewed it up till it had a "kick."

Until one day his hat blew over the royal garden wall and—yep, you guessed it! A girl! Revolution off!

But not for Hawthorne's "army." Which started something you've got to see.

A picture sizzling with "punch," laughs and adventure, with Wallace Reid in the role of his life.

Lila Lee, Theodore Roberts, Harrison Ford, Tully Marshall, Charles Ogle, Edwin Stevens, Guy Oliver in the big supporting cast.

Also a Big V Comedy—"SQUABS AND SQUABBLES"
